

New York Life Grief-Sensitive Schools Initiative®

School toolkit

Grief-Sensitive
Schools Initiative®

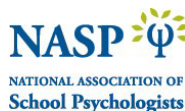

Thank you for joining over 3,000 schools in becoming a Grief-Sensitive School.

Welcome to the Grief-Sensitive Schools (GSSI) network. The Grief-Sensitive Schools Initiative® (GSSI) is part of New York Life's nationwide effort to better equip educators and other school personnel to care for the grieving students. Through the program, trained New York Life ambassadors connect with schools in their local communities to offer a brief 20-minute presentation on the grief in schools and the dedicated resources available. School that receive this presentation and agree to strive to become Grief-Sensitive, may receive a small grant to support their efforts.

The GSSI program was developed to:

- raise awareness of the prevalence of children's bereavement;
- introduce the Coalition's industry-endorsed bereavement online resource and other bereavement resources;
- incentivize local schools/districts to raise awareness of both this issue and this resource in their school community; and
- to provide a systematic approach and program for Agents and Employees to engage with school communities as brand ambassadors and to foster deeper and more holistic relationships

Founding Members:

Grief-Sensitive
Schools Initiative®

Impact 2018-2022

780

NYL agents and employees have delivered over

4,200

GSSI Presentations to schools across

49 states

Resulting in grants totaling more than

$2.1M

Local school communities

Schools can join this initiative by:

- Accepting the invitation from a NYL GSSI ambassador
- Requesting a presentation via website
- Referral from one of NYLF's bereavement partners
- Through our GSSI district initiative

Participating schools agree to:

- Increase awareness of this issue and resources
- Share information with school community about grievingstudents.org and other resources.
- Review relevant school policies and practices.
- Provide specific professional learning opportunities.
- Posting the "Grief-Sensitive School" decal in school building.

Grief-Sensitive
Schools Initiative®

Next steps for GSSI Schools

Offer dedicated bereavement support training to your school community:

- Utilize one of the pre-recorded videos developed for educator training and:
 - either show during a staff meeting OR
 - assign to staff to view individually and discuss at a staff meeting
- Invite a local bereavement center or program to provide training during a professional development session or during a faculty meeting
- Ensure training for any new educators or school staff
- Provide more advanced training for your school mental health/pupil services professionals (e.g., school counselors, nurses, psychologists, and social workers)
- Offer a brief presentation to your parent organization

Access free resources:

- Order and/or download free resources
- Leverage resources with GSSI partners
- Partner with the local bereavement center as a referral and/or program partner
- Become familiar with resources and supports provided through the National Center for School Crisis and Bereavement
- Consider on-site peer support program for grieving students – either conducted by school-based or community-based (e.g., from local bereavement center/program) professionals
- Sign up for our newsletter which highlights new and ongoing resources and tools, free webinars plus more

Review school policies related to bereavement, including:

- Attendance policies that don't penalize students/staff for absences related to funerals and other mourning rituals
- Faculty/staff bereavement leave benefits
- Communications with families of deceased students
- Commemoration and memorialization, including considerations related to death by suicide and spontaneous memorials
- Virtual memorials
- Graduation (e.g., granting posthumous degrees)
- Recognition of students/staff who died in yearbook and other end of the year activities
- Limiting on-site funerals, wakes, and related services

GSSI schools and Bereavement Partners

As members of the GSSI network, there are a variety of resources available to you!

Our bereavement partners can support GSSI schools by:

- Visiting your school or district for a follow-up training
- Helping you access additional resources
- Providing general support to your school or district

Tip: If a local bereavement center charges a fee for training or services, use the GSSI grant to cover the cost!

Helpful Web sites

www.grievingstudents.org

www.newyorklife.com/foundation

The Coalition to Support Grieving Students is a collaboration of organizations representing the full range of school professionals. The goal of the Coalition is to share a set of industry-endorsed, free resources that will empower school communities across America in the ongoing support of their grieving students.

The New York Life Foundation's dedicated site, nylgriefresources.com, provides information on bereavement support resources, tools and expert information. Information ranges from articles to podcasts to dedicated tools for bereaved youth and the people who want to support them.

www.schoolcrisiscenter.org National Center for School Crisis & Bereavement is a dedicated center supporting students through crisis and loss. The center offers crisis response, education & training, and advocacy & research initiatives. The NCSCB coordinates the Coalition.

Best practices and guidance documents

Templates and guidelines to help school communities respond to the needs of students and staff after a death.

Templates for sample notifications

Guidance documents

Psychological First Aid for Students & Teachers

Guidance on polices:

- Guidelines for Responding to the Death of a Student or School Staff
- Guidance on Death by Suicide

Additional modules:

- Guidelines: Communicating with the Family After a Student Has Died
- Back-to-School Considerations

Follow us on social media

Grief-Sensitive
Schools Initiative®

Grief-Sensitive Schools Initiative Resources for Schools

Professional Development Opportunities

Mental Health Professionals and School Staff

Supporting students coping with grief and loss : Webinar on how to support students who are grieving the death of a family member, friend, or peer in general, and specifically during the pandemic

When School Starts Back: Helping students and you cope with crisis and loss during the COVID-19 pandemic: Webinar on how to support students and adults in the school with both the crisis of the pandemic and grief

When School Starts Back: Helping students and you cope with crisis during a pandemic: Webinar on how to support students with the crisis and loss associated with the COVID-19 pandemic (this is an abbreviated presentation that combines the key points from the two presentations for school mental health providers).

Educators and All School Professionals

Teacher Training Module: Part 1 Training Module - Video

Presented by the Coalition to Support Grieving Students. The first teacher module will help school staff understand the experience of the grieving student and includes information about how children understand death and express their grief.

Teacher Training Module: Part 2 Training Module - Video

Presented by the Coalition to Support Grieving Students. The second teacher module presents practical suggestions about how school staff can initiate the conversation and offer support to the grieving student.

Teacher Training Module: Part 3 Training Module - Video

Presented by the Coalition to Support Grieving Students. The third teacher module presents practical guidance about how to coordinate resources and manage special issues while you support the grieving child.

Supporting grieving children in schools - Webinar

Presented by the Coalition to Support Grieving Students. This presentation, intended for all school professionals, combines highlights from the Teacher Training modules 1-3 in an abbreviated format, including how children understand death and express their grief; how to initiate the conversation and offer support; and how to coordinate resources and manage special issues while supporting grieving students. It highlights and connects to materials on the Coalition to Support Grieving Students website for further information.

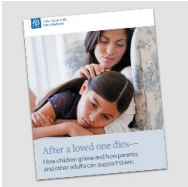

Grief-Sensitive
Schools Initiative®

Grief-Sensitive Schools Initiative

Free booklets and pamphlets for school personnel and parents

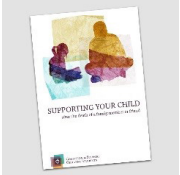

These resources are available either in hard copy or downloadable/pdf. To order these resources, please visit www.achildgrief.com and click on 'Free Printed Materials'. Please note, all materials are free and ship for free. For your convenience, you can download these resources with the links below.

After a Loved One Dies: How Children Grieve and How Parents and Other Adults Can Support Them

This booklet explains how children grieve and the ways parents and other caring adults can help them understand death better.

- English e-booklet
- Spanish e-booklet

Supporting your Child brochure

This brochure provides advice to parents and caregivers on supporting children who are grieving.

- English e-booklet
- Spanish e-booklet

Supporting your Student brochure

Developed by the Coalition to Support Grieving Students, this pamphlet offers advice to educators and school personnel on how to support grieving students and how classmates can help.

- English e-booklet

What To Say/Not To Say Tip Card

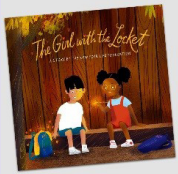

Wallet-size tip cards offer valuable advice on how to speak with children who have experienced the death of a loved one.

Kai's Journey: The Golden Sweater

The Kai's Journey series begins with The Golden Sweater, which focuses on the newness of loss and getting your bearings in a world without that significant person in your life. This story shows how Kai's mom also adapts to her new world.

- English e-booklet
- Spanish e-booklet

Kai's Journey: The Girl with the Locket

The second book in the series, The Girl with the Locket, centers on a new experience for Kai, a bereavement camp. While he is somewhat anxious about the prospect of meeting new people, it doesn't take him long to make new friends. Elle is a young girl who struggles to talk about her own loss. Kai reaches out to her and finds that he has something to share with young people who are just like him.

- English e-booklet
- Spanish e-booklet

Kai's Journey: The Fishless Lake

In The Fishless Lake, Kai realizes that some of his memories of his father are slipping away. Kai's mother remembers one of their family traditions and re-introduces Kai to the annual fishing trip that Kai and his dad took every September. Although they don't catch any fish, they do capture countless warm memories, shared stories and a way to keep those family traditions alive and evolving as the family grows.

- English e-booklet
- Spanish e-booklet

Kai's Journey: Lost in the Middle

For Kai and his friends, grief and loss are lifelong journeys. The same goes for real children and their families - it doesn't just end when the book ends. That's why we've expanded the series with our newest book, Lost in the Middle, a graphic novel for middle schoolers

▽ 9b[`]g\ Y! Vcc_`

Please note: New York Life Insurance Company and the New York Life Foundation grant permission to your organization to print copies of the downloadable versions of Kai's Journey – The Golden Sweater, Kai's Journey – The Girl with the Locket, Kai's Journey – The Fishless Lake, and Kai's Journey - Lost in the Middle. Each copy must be printed in full without alteration of any kind, which includes printing in full color with the New York Life copyright notice and the New York Life Foundation logo in legible form. The reprints may not be used to promote your organization. No further charitable donations will be made from the New York Life Foundation due to printing copies of the books. New York Life Insurance Company and the New York Life Foundation reserve all rights in the Kai's Journey books other than the limited permissions set forth above and may grant similar permissions to other institutions.

Grief-Sensitive
Schools Initiative®